Corsley Memorial Playing Field

Latest news

Chairman Neil Carpenter's latest news from the playing field

Summer has finally come and grass cutting has started in earnest. The cow parsley is now in flower along with the blossom. The cricket square, after all the work done over winter by Ped, looked perfect for the Corsley/Chapmanslade match on 27th May, the results of which will be known by the time this edition of The Bridge is published.

After several false starts we have also managed to put a new outer surface on the pizza oven. It will soon have a final coating of lime wash to complete the refurbishment.

The playing field is a great asset to the village which we are constantly trying to improve for the users, so we are looking for some new helpers and trustees to keep the field looking wonderful and open to everyone. Please get in touch if you can spend some time helping or would like to be on the committee

We have had a number of ideas for improving the playing field such as getting some outside gym kit. We would like to hear your comments about this and any other ideas you have on how to make the playing field even better. Please get in touch by email or phone.

Can I ask people not to park in the first 15 metres of the car park? The tennis club needed to get an ambulance on the field following an injury recently and couldn't because a parked car prevented it from turning in.

We have been disappointed to note that a number of residents have been dumping their grass and hedge clippings in the playing field. The field is not a dumping ground, so can we ask that people get rid of their green waste through the council bins, tip, or ideally compost it themselves. Residents that continue to dump waste will have their direct access to the field removed.

Biology: changing the world

In Chapmanslade and Corsley we live in a developed society with (usually!) constant electrical power. Those living in towns and cities may have constant light throughout the night from streetlights, 24-hour shops, garages, and the like. In the country, we are more fortunate in that we can occasionally be away from artificial lights and lit only by the stars and the moon, although the skyglow from Westbury or Frome can usually be seen on the horizon

I will always remember being in Australia at a remote research station and looking up at the sky on a clear night. Never have I seen so many stars, and for the first time really understood why the Milky Way was so named. However, recent data from orbiting satellites has shown that light pollution is increasing globally. It is not just the developing world that now has better power, and therefore more lighting. It is also the developed world moving from relatively low intensity tungsten lamps to much higher intensity LEDs. These use less power, but may generate much more light.

Apart from limiting our ability to see the plethora of stars, is this a bad thing? One issue is safety. Being able to see where you are walking at night is necessary, and lights around your home can help deter burglars. However, outside lights which only come on when movement is detected are a better deterrent for criminals than a constant light. They are also less likely to trouble your neighbours, who might find a constant light next to their home annoying. In fact, you may become a 'criminal' yourself if your lighting is too bright or wrongly directed, as exterior lighting is covered as a statutory nuisance under the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act (2005). This arises from the campaign by the British Astronomical Association's Commission for Dark Skies (www.britastro.org/dark-skies/).

Apart from annoyance, excess lighting can cause damage to our health and to wildlife.

Long-term sleep deprivation caused by night lighting, particularly by the blue-white light from LEDs, may increase the risk of diabetes, cancer, cardiovascular disease and depression. Studies by ecologists have shown that light not only affects the behaviours of animals and insects that respond to artificial light, but that plants may be affected as well. In some cases (e.g. Trefoil) flowering may be directly suppressed by constant light and changes to the behaviour of nocturnal insects may reduce pollination. Even the buoyancy of alage in lakes is affected by skyglow from cities, altering the occurrence of algal blooms.

There are national and international campaigns to reduce the amount of light pollution. We can each help by ensuring our lighting is only turned on when necessary.

Parish Council Briefing

Chairman, Neil Britten, rounds up the PC's activity in May

The PC had one meeting in May, the Parish Council Annual Meeting, the main item being the election of this year's Chair and Vice Chair. Several other issues were also considered, including developments at the Old School Playing Field, future possibilities at the Bay Tree Close site, Streetscene and the effects of the Government's new legislation and rules on Data protection. One planning application was also considered

Planning applications

18/0364/FUL & 18/03918/LBC - Single storey garage extension to existing outbuilding at Court Farm, Court Lane (Grade II listed)

A previous application for conversion of the outbuilding (old stable) to a studio had been approved; this application, for full and listed consent (identical documents), adds a single storey garage onto the same building on its southern end. The proposed style matches the existing building and the extension has no material impact on the listed features of the property, The PC registered no objection.

18/00934/FUL - Removal of Condition 7 to allow Lavender Lodge to be used as a permanent separate residency

The PC objected to this application on the arounds that it had not been shown to be unviable as a holiday let. Wiltshire turned down the application, not directly on these arounds, but on the basis that such a change of use to a building in a "remote" setting, outside the main village, in open countryside, breached Wiltshire development policies.

The application has now been re-submitted (18/04155/FUL) on the grounds that Wiltshire has no declared policy on the retention on 'tourist' infrastructure, Longleat's change of letting policy has drastically reduced the letting potential of the building and that national policy on re-use of redundant buildings should take precedence.

Streetscene

Simon Jasper provided a written local update and there had been a PC and Town Council Highways brief on the wider county issues, attended by the Chair. The main points from both were:

Parish Steward

There had been a lack of local attention from the Parish Steward in recent weeks and the next visit is expected in June. The priority has been placed on weed-killing in Birchwood Close and signage on the A362.

The Highways brief cast some light on the situation with parish stewards. Across the County there are 22 stewards, but they are 'multi-hatted'. Work within villages is discretionary and is a result of the reports collected on the Wiltshire reporting app and a lot of direct liaison work between PC's and the stewards, on which Simon has worked assiduously with great success. In recent weeks, the stewards have been pulled off local streetscene work to work on the major pot-hole repair effort and they were also pressed into service during the spells of snow and ice when the 'Beast from the East' struck, plus a recent blitz on litter on the main highways. The Highways team, once again, stressed the importance of individual reporting of any highways-related issues.

On the subject of pot holes, Highways emphasised that these should be reported via the app as soon as possible. I questioned their stance on damage to car tyres from pot holes and they were clear that if Highways were unaware of pot holes they were not responsible. They do carry out patrols themselves, but the onus is very much on self-help and reporting.

Speedwatch

The PC has now written to the Wiltshire Police Coordinator with a view to getting their approval to mount a speedwatch and we await their response.

Lorry Watch

As previously reported, County support for this has been reduced. Simon has done some research into another known local lorry watch area, Bradford-on-Avon, a relatively well-off Town Council and a scheme with 40 volunteers. It very much reflects the general picture in that the County have cut their support to the B-o-A scheme by 80%. The County licencing office are overwhelmed by the returns being put in and B-o-A claim only eight prosecutions in the two years of their scheme. They had investigated a VRN recognition system, but rejected it as being too expensive.

The PC debated this issue again, particularly in light of the experience of Olly Hares in reporting three identified vehicles from one company, travelling westwards in convoy. The company claimed that it tracked its vehicles and that they were not in Corsley at all! Unfortunately, it was not possible to get the VRN at the time of observation. This incident highlights the need to collect VRN numbers, not always easy, and the denials of companies when faced with factual evidence. The PC discussed other means of recording information, particularly photographic evidence as dates and times are recorded on digital images. It was agreed the legalities of this course would be checked.

Road Safety

Simon has compiled an A362 safety dossier after the discussions a the APM and these will be presented and considered at the next CATG on 6th June

Other highways issues

Finance

The accent at the highways brief was on financial stringency and the efforts made by the County to maximise their efficiency in tackling priorities. In the next couple of years some of the major highways contracts are due for renegotiation and renewal, particularly those related to streetscene issues. Highways anticipate that there will be further review of the provision of services, with the likelihood that some will be offered for delegation to town and parish councils, with potential consequences for precept levels. They particularly highlighted rapidly rising costs associated with waste material arising from Parish Steward activities, e.g. gully clearing, grass cutting, other arisings and of fly tipping.

Litter

Highways were very clear the voluntary schemes for litter picking were to be discouraged on the grounds of safety. They were equally clear that no additional litter bins would be provided by the County. If these were required then they should be locally funded, but Highways' view was that there was no correlation between the provision of additional bins and a lessening of the amount of rubbish deposited on roadsides – rather the opposite. Neither would the Police prosecute on the evidence of a single observer.

Old School Playing Field

As has been routinely discussed in these briefs, the PC has been considering how best to improve and preserve this amenity. Four key decisions were taken at the meeting on 14th May:

The proposal offered by Judith Selman and Chris Johnson to develop a wildflower meadow area was accepted and work will start this year.

A proposal from Neil Carpenter for sponsored tree planting was accepted and will take place this autumn, integrated with the wildflower meadow plans and additional trees to replenish the jubilee planting.

A new pedestrian and vehicle entrance will be created this year at the eastern end of the car park, re-using the redundant old school gates and fencing, suitably refurbished.

The grass area will be moved monthly by a volunteer team until the wildflower team take over.

Bay Tree Site

As is very clear, the Bay Tree site development is nearing completion and it is expected that the first adverts for applications to occupy the housing will be posted by Housing4Witshire in June. It is emphasised, however, that the bungalows are social housing, owned by Wiltshire, and can only be occupied by those who are eligible under the housing register conditions. These can be viewed on Housing4Witshire website and have been summarised in previous briefs in The Bridge magazine.

The PC has discussed potential further development on the Bay Tree site, particularly the possibilities for open market housing in the future. It is clear from these consultations that, since Bay Tree is a 'rural exception' site, there are specific policies under the Wiltshire Core Strategy which apply and limit how the site may be developed. These effectively mean that it can only be used for social housing and then only if there is a fully-justified local need. Open market housing can only be considered if these conditions are met and it can be shown that the site is not financially viable without an open market housing element. At present, Wiltshire is concentrating on the current social housing roll-out across the county and there is no current plan for any further such development. The PC agreed to keep a watching brief on any such future plans and the potential for inclusion of an open market element.

Government Data Protection Rules (GDPR)

The new GDPR rules came into force 25th May. By this date, any public body, including Parish Councils, must have in place a plan to meet the new rules which place obligations and duties to protect any personal data collected and used in the execution of the PC's legal obligations. The PC has received advice from Wiltshire and from the National Association of Local Councils and has formulated an outline plan to put in place the required policies and safeguards in the way in which it manages the minimal amount of personal data held and used. Details of the new processes are expected to be finalised within the next month and will be published on the PC section of The Bridge website in due course.

Seven Open Doors

Dear Friends,

It's June and summer really is here! The weather, which was still fluctuating between warm and cold when we enjoyed the most amazing Rogation Sunday, has at last become more predictable. Our farmers who were marking time in one of the latest springs in memory can at last begin to catch up. Nature has a great capacity to recover, and we must hope that this summer is no exception.

When I looked for a theme early in May, the news was full of the consequences of the misuse of Facebook personal data. I can see those of you who are not at all interested in social media heading to the waste bin with this page! Until recently, I was firmly of the same view, but reluctantly became a user of Facebook in order to be able to share Church information with those who, perhaps, don't read local magazines. I was not in favour of such 'new fangled' pastimes and highly critical of the tendency of younger people to be welded to their smart phones! So having become a Facebook user, I was convinced I would never get sucked into that sort of behaviour! Of course, I was wrong, and the subsequent weeks saw me constantly looking at all the activities and news being generated on the village Facebook site. My email inbox became full of 'have you seen' messages increasing the pressure to look once again. This demanded action and, having stopped these random emails, some semblance of normality has descended once again on the Buick household!

What possible relevance can this have to us as Christians and the life of our churches? Given our recent discussions across the benefice, looking at what the future holds for us, many of the conclusions confirm what Pauline has long been urging us to do. In basic terms, we have no future unless we connect with the whole community, particularly our newer generations. The recent Good Friday Messy Church in St Philip and St James' Church was a perfect example of this. Young families picked up news of the event on social media placed there by one of our marvellous supporters. The result was amazing! We found ourselves running out of the materials we had brought, as a large number of young families had a great experience enjoying both the activities and the service which followed. Put simply, we had communicated in the right 'language'.

This is not a plea for us to turn our backs on the traditions of our Christian heritage. One of the joys for me, in leading school assemblies, is the use of the traditional Lord's Prayer. We live in a benefice which encompasses everything good about village life. The closeness which allows us all to care for each other, combines with diversity, celebrating the full spectrum of worship including 1662 services alongside newer forms. The events in Acts chapter 2 describing the coming of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost, embody God's message of inclusiveness with the multinational crowd surrounding the Disciples hearing his word in their own languages. Summer village events like the recent street party in Crockerton and village explorer trail day in Chapmanslade this month give us the opportunity to connect with each other in the best possible way. Pauline's wish for 'the community to be at the heart of the church' has never been more apt as we look to the future.

With love and prayers Ian Buick, Churchwarden and Lay Worship Leader

Rogation Service on 6th May at Summerleaze

The Rogation Service was very well attended on a beautiful day and the setting was absolutely right for a service of thankgsgiving for all of God's creation. Our thanks to Ross and Sheila Daniell for their excellent hospitality.

Fundraising

Our Summer Coffee Morning was held at Manor Farm, Corsley on 12th May. A social occasion with everyone enjoying home-made cakes with coffee; and plenty of other home-made produce and plants for sale. The morning raised £616 for church funds.

On the same morning we held the Summer Draw for our 50/50 Club. There were ten cash prizes ranging from £200 to £25. Congratulations to our lucky winners. The 50/50 Club costs £24 for each membership and 50% of the fee goes to maintaining the churches, and the other 50% is returned as prizes in two prize draws per year. You may hold as many memberships as you wish!! If you want to join the 50/50 Club please contact Neil Britten or Keith Muston.

On 10th June our church Parish is participating in the Fables and Fairy Tales Explorer Trail. The church in Chapmanslade will be buzzing with young people and their minders from 11am. There will be refreshments available at the church. The event will benefit four local organisations including the church Parish and the School and Busy Bees.

On the 14th of July St Margaret's will be hosting a concert by the Military Wives Choir with the proceeds being shared between the church, Frome Rotary and the Choir.

On Saturday 21st July we will be returning to the delightful Job's Mill by kind invitation of Lady Sylvi McQuiston for an afternoon of Pimms and cream teas. Further details of these two events will be in subsequent issues of the Bridge.

We will of course have our usual stall at the Corsley Show on August Bank Holiday Monday. The day before the Show at 4.30pm we shall be holding a Songs of Praise service at the Showground and this will be followed with a cream tea!!!!!

Foundation Governor at Chapmanslade School

Corsley WI

May news

Carol Seward rounds up the May meeting and announces some forthcoming events

At the April meeting of Corsley WI, members gave a warm welcome to Cordelia Rowlatt of Vallis Veg, which sells vegetables through the Frome Food Assembly and delivers fresh vegetables in and around Frome. Cordelia started the business after moving from London and deciding to grow her own veg. Apart from the market gardening aspect of the business, Cordelia has animals including pigs, sheep and ducks. In conjunction with Forest School they run a project entitled Shared Earth Learning Co-op, which has a permanent base on the farm where those with disabilities can help with the plants.

Cordelia has also diversified into several other ventures, with the addition of allotments, a wildlife area with a permitted footpath and a campsite in amongst the trees in their woodland area, an idyllic spot which can also be used for outdoor events Pauline Scott gave the vote of thanks for the illustrated talk

Alice Cambridge then proposed the WI resolution which this year is that 'mental health matters as much as physical health'; that it should be as acceptable to talk about mental health as it is about physical health and that there should be better support for mental illness. Members unanimously supported the resolution which is to be to be put forward to the NFWI AGM in June.

The competition for a limerick to include a vegetable was won by Alice Cambridge, second was Eileen Leete and Cath Fricker was third.

Everyone is invited to join us for a Mystery Trip by coach on Wednesday 12 September. For reservations please phone Carol on 01373 832446. Future Federation events include a workshop on mono printing and the Annual Council Meeting at Salisbury in October.

The June meeting of Corsley WI will be held in the Reading Room at 7.30pm on Thursday 14th June, when Fiona Cordell will give a talk entitled Starting My Lavender Business. The competition is for My Favourite Perfume Bottle. New members are always very welcome.

Are you new to the area? Don't know anyone? Come and make friends at our WI meetings, held in the Reading Room at Corsley on the second Thursday each month at 7.30pm. If you need a lift or would like someone to come with you, phone Carol Seward on 01373 832446 or email carol. seward@talktalk.net for details and any other information about Corsley WI.

Can you play skittles or scrabble, or would like to learn? We are looking for new WI team members, so please contact us if you would be interested. For information about the Bridge Club and Lunch Club, please ring Pauline Scott on 01985 215760.

Chapmanslade Parish Council

Parish Council Briefing

Notes from the Parish Council meeting held on 10th May

The meeting began with nominations for Chairman and vice-Chairman, Keith Muston was elected as Chairman and John Lewis as vice-Chairman.

The meeting was opened to the public and the following issues were raised:-

 Update on Lochailort and Barters Farm The Chairman reported that his latest information was that Lochailort were still awaiting a response from Wiltshire Council Highways.

Telephone box

It was suggested that the telephone box be moved away from the main road by a few feet as sighting is a major problem at the junction. It was thought that in making this request to BT, the response by them might be to remove the telephone box altogether as it is used so infrequently.

 Cobblestone area in Southcroft It was pointed out that the cobblestones are in very poor condition. As the ownership of this cobbled area is not clear it was agreed that the Council will try to establish who owns the it.

Generators

There was a lively discussion about the ongoing need for the generators. The Chairman reported that the SSE confirmed that the issue was the subject of legal discussions and therefore could not be discussed further

The minutes of the last meeting were accepted and there were no matters arising that would not arise on the agenda.

General Data Protection Regulations

The Clerk reported that she had attended two meetings on GDPR. It was agreed that the Clerk and two Councillors would form a working group to progress the work on GDPR to ensure our compliance.

Policies and Standing Orders

It was agreed that the PC would adopt the model Policies and Standing Orders and customize as required for our PC.

Internal Audit

The Clerk reported the audit had been completed and was discussed. The audit details will be forwarded to the LA Auditor and the details will be posted on the website.

Payments

As well as the regular payments it was agreed to provide £150 towards the cost of a booklet being produced to commemorate the service personnel from the Parish who lost their lives in the First World War. It was also agreed to provide the Clerk with a laptop to assist in maintaining data integrity and compliance with GDPR.

Correspondence

Localism Act and Register of Interests All the Councillors were reminded of the need to keep their details correct and up-todate.

White line markings

The Chairman reported that he will be asking the next meeting of the Area Traffic Group to arrange for the markings in the village to be refreshed.

• Weight limits

The first signs have been erected by WC but we are now awaiting Highways England to carry out their works. There was a lively discussion about the weight limits and the delay in the 7.5 tonne limit due to the A303/A350 improvements. The Chairman will make contact with our MP to see if we can make progress on this

• Village Plan

The Chairman had submitted a report to the Area Board.

Gore Lane

Advised by WC that there were legal discussions regarding the new building in Gore Lane.

• Speedwatch

It is now common to record 600 vehicles per hour travelling through the village. A new speedwatch coordinator is urgently required.

Footpaths

The new footpath group is active and several footpaths already adopted. The meeting was reminded how important it was to keep dogs under control especially in the vicinity of animals. It was reported that a landowner was experiencing problems with sheep being worried by dogs and, in extremis, would shoot dogs worrying sheep!

Next meeting

The next Parish Council meeting is scheduled for Thursday 7th June but may be re-scheduled.

Education, education, education

in South Sudan

I am sure that many of us are familiar with the great success of the Juba Diocese Model Secondary School. Indeed many residents of the Parish generously provide bursaries for children fortunate enough to be accepted into that school.

Today I would like to talk about Primary school education in the capital of South Sudan, Juba. The Diocese of Juba has six primary, or as they are called in Juba, 'basic' schools. With children in South Sudan having the second lowest access to education in the world the pupils of these schools are very fortunate.

These schools are not free and paying fees for schooling is a great hardship to the families. However, education is valued so highly in South Sudan that many make huge personal sacrifices in order to pay them. We have a bursary scheme in place and at the moment 30 children benefit from this

Although I have helped to administer these bursaries for several years, my knowledge of how a basic school in Juba operates was very limited, so I penned an email to the Diocese school inspector asking her a number of questions. Here, in her own words, are some of the answers:

"Basic schools run from P1 to P8, no fixed age for education, if a pupil fails the end of year exams they repeat that year. So it is not unusual for a 17 year old to be in basic school"

"Most teachers are not qualified because they are mostly secondary school leavers who have not gone to teachers training college. They get in-service training or at institute of education leavers"

"There are no meals in schools and in most cases pupils end up fasting until they return home. Some parents do arrange something small for their pupils in form of money or packed lunch. If a school has a source of water that is the meal for most pupils and they have it at lunch time"

Thanks to the generosity of the Salisbury Diocese, three two-week teacher training courses have been funded. These appear to have helped raise teaching standards as improvements in exam results are evident. We hope to secure funding for a further three-year training program. An ICT course has also been funded to help teachers improve their personal computer skills. Even by South Sudanese standards, teachers are very poorly paid and those who remain in the profession must be praised for their dedication

The answer about school meals and water speaks volumes. It is difficult to see a quick solution to this, the UN World Food Program used to provide a meal at midday for the basic school children; unfortunately this no longer happens. A recent magazine article compared the cost of a basic meal of beans and rice around the world. Using various baselines the cost was deemed to be $1.20 in New York; the same meal in South Sudan, the worst-ranked country in the survey, would cost $321.70.

It is wonderful that, even with widespread civil war in the country, outbreaks of violence common-place in Juba, astronomical inflation and, with an economy that has all but collapsed, education still continues.

If we compare education in Juba to a pyramid, the base would be the start of basic school education The steps are many - finishing basic school, passing entry exams to secondary education, passing annual exams until the top of the pyramid is reached with a School Certificate. What could a person achieve for their country and their family by reaching the top of that pvramid!

If you feel that you would like to help a child at the base of the pyramid, a basic school bursary costs £65 a year. For more information, please contact Richard Paul at rpaul2011@hotmail.co.uk

'He is not here; he has risen...' Matt 28:6

'Risen'!

I find modern films and television dramas hard to watch, thanks mainly to bad language and gratuitous violence, so when I recently found saw four DVDs of films including Jesus, I snapped them up!

Three were from the 1950s, 'Ben-Hur', 'Quo Vadis' and 'The Robe', all dramatised from well-known novels. 'Ben-Hur' is on our tellies frequently, especially at Christmas and Bank Holiday weekends. 'The Robe' and 'Quo Vadis' appear on freeview channels occasionally. All the films mention Jesus -'Ben-Hur' and 'The Robe' have the crucifixion as part of the storyline – but Jesus isn't a main character; he's incidental, a 'hook' on which to hang the main plot.

I didn't expect much from a 2016 DVD, 'Risen'. Television programmes about Jesus debunk His story and our faith, so I thought this film would be the same. I was wrong, 'Risen' is based on the crucifixion, resurrection and ascension of Jesus, seen through the eyes of a Tribune in charge of the crucifixion and following events. This man oversees the burial of Jesus' body in Joseph of Arimathea's tomb; he directs the sealing and places guards on duty himself.

When the Tribune's later told his guards have run to the Pharisees, saying Jesus' body's been stolen, he's ordered to find it and the thieves. Rumours abound of Jesus being alive. Our Tribune walks into the apostles' hiding place – and the Man he last saw on the cross is there, as well. Apostle Thomas enters and Jesus shows him his wounds: the Tribune sees them, too. He knows this is the man from the cross and follows the disciples to Galilee, hears Jesus ask Peter three times, 'Do you love me?' and he's there when Jesus ascends into heaven

The whole story is simply told from the Gospels, with acting far-outshining that of the 50s 'stars'. If you find a copy of 'Risen' on sale in a shop or on the internet, snap it up! Christian or not, watch it and you won't regret the purchase.

Sunday School Memories

Chapel Secretary Ray Mead remembers his summers as a Sunday School leader: "Outings to Weymouth were arranged; camps were arranged, too, and we all went to Sandy Bay, Exmouth, and stayed in caravans. We found it hard to attract children on a Sunday, so we decided to go where the children were. We erected a marguee on the site of the present Hayesdown School (it was all fields then). We had meetings every week day for one week, after work from 6-7pm in the summer. We sang Gospel Choruses, learned Bible verses, had Bible Quizzes and Bible stories. It was easy to attract 50-100 children."

Corsley Tennis Club News

Corsley Tennis Club staged an American Tournament on Sunday 13th May at The Corsley Memorial Playing Field. 18 players contested some close sets, resulting in Group A being won by Jenny Bishop and Sonia Glenn. Group B produced a tie between Ann Walker and Diana Hale, and Michael Clarke and Sue Kerfoot.

This annual tournament raises funds for a charity and the £50 raised this year will be sent to research for Brain Cancer. At the conclusion of play we all enjoyed a bringand-share tea

The Ladies' Doubles tournament is on Sunday 3rd June and the Men's Doubles on Sunday 24th June. Both tournaments start at 2 pm; spectators are welcome.

The club are continuing with Junior coaching with the club's professional coach Jon Dilena (07986 370080). Countryside Matters

Spring has truly sprung, down on the farm

It's 4.30 am on 19th May and I am woken by the dawn chorus: what a wonderful sound to hear and how important to realise that the natural world is still out there even if our busy days are full of Royal Wedding news, football Cup Final and even bigger European and world matters.

Spring came in very suddenly and farm life has meant early mornings and late nights to get the field work done.

Cattle and sheep are now out enjoying fresh pastures, leaving the barns to be cleared of winter bedding and put on the land to enrich the summer hay crops, or to be ploughed in to spring-planted arable crops or maize. Heavy winter rainfall has increased the liquid slurry that is now spread on the land – increasing the natural way of improving the soil and crops.

Where possible, the first cut of silage was made at the end of May and the routine of grazing or cutting the grass every six weeks will continue through to the autumn.

The 60-day check on all the cattle for traces of TB took four days to complete, with the sad news that six of the cows have reacted to the test and must be slaughtered.

like so many others, will have enjoyed a day at the Bath stock that British

Do try to get to a country show this year, or look out for a farm near you where, on the 10th June, Open Farm Sunday offers you the chance to see what life is really like down on the farm!

The countryside is looking beautiful with the freshness of the colours of the trees - the blossom brightening up our fields, woodlands and hedges with their promises of fruit and nuts later in the year. Elder blossom is ready to pick for those enjoyable summer drinks or natural medicinal products.

The beautiful displays of bluebells were followed by frothy cow parsley and majestic foxgloves; wild strawberries are growing in our lanes along with wild parsley to pep up your salads.

Enjoy your countryside in June.

Corsley Reading Room

Your 'village hall'

Chairman, Hugh Deed, reports on the latest happenings at the hall

A village map is now on display in the telephone box.

For those of you who bring or take books at the Coffee Morning, we have had a bit of a cull and disposed of the many books that we have had for months. In future, new books will be kept for no more than two or three Coffee Mornings and then passed on to another charity.

We have been pleased to allow the builders from the development at Baytree Farm to use our car park for four weeks, thus avoiding the problems this would otherwise have caused in the Corsley Heath area. They had a larger number of contractors on site in May and we were delighted to receive a small donation from them

Please do promote and use the Reading Room for events. If we are to retain this facility we need to use it!

Full details about the hall and its facilities. including how to hire are on the website or call Gill Parkinson (01373 832322) to discuss.
